

A Message To Parents:

This pre-reader activity book is distributed to teach young children how to use the telephone to call for aide in the event of a crisis.

If you read the text aloud to your child a few times, your child is sure to remember the lessons taught in dialing 9-1-1, as well as the Emergency Operator/Dispatcher responses they can expect in the event of an emergency.

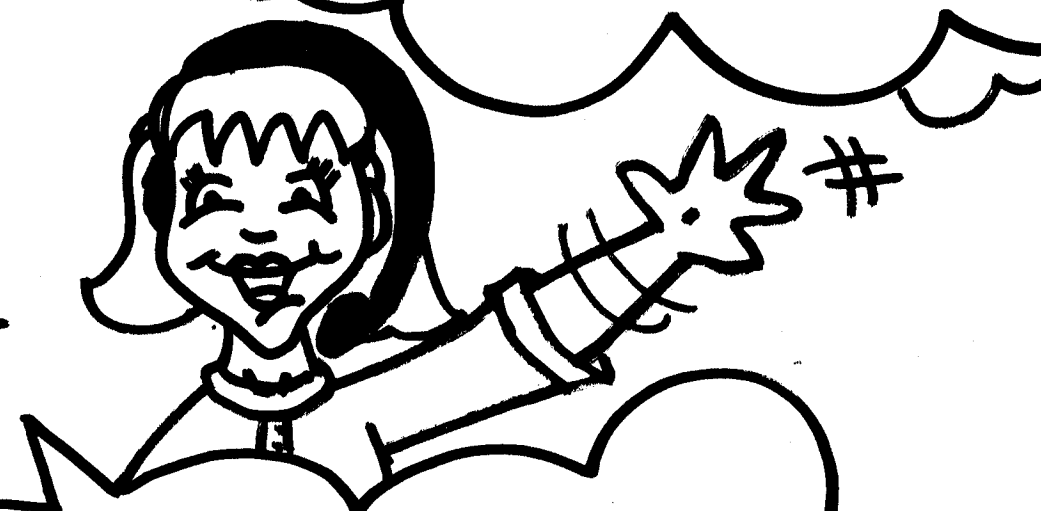

The following pages consist of activities, words, and pictures associated with the 9-1-1 calling process, and are meant to assist in enhancing your child's understanding of the importance of this subject.

We hope that you or your children never have to utilize the information provided in this booklet, however, should the need arise, you can rest assured that your children have been educated and the knowledge can mean the difference between rescue and tragedy.

DIAL 9-1-1 FOR EMERGENCIES ONLY!!!

Hi, I'm Timmy the telephone!
I'm going to help you learn
How to use 9-1-1 the right way!
We use 9-1-1 for emergencies
ONLY...
If someone is hurt very badly, you
Can call 9-1-1.

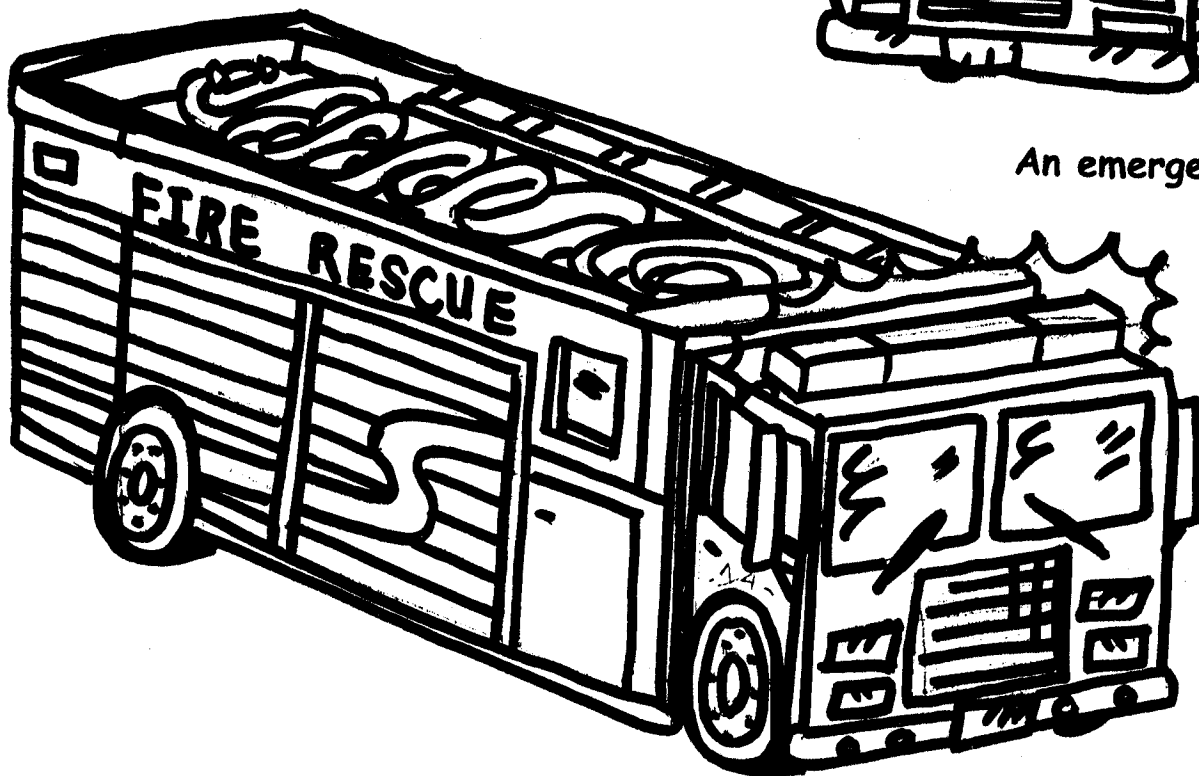

If you see something very bad happen,
You can call 9-1-1.
If you see a fire, or smell smoke
You can call 9-1-1.
You can do the puzzles and games in my book
And learn all about this as you go.

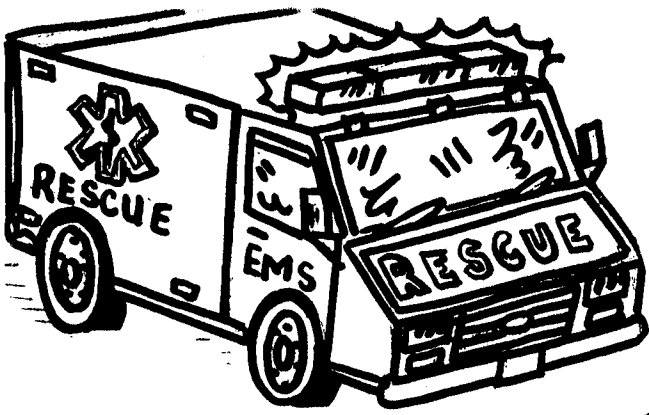

When you call 9-1-1, you will talk to an emergency operator, or a dispatcher. The operator is your friend, he or she will need you to stay on the phone with them and give them all the information you have about whatever is going on and where it is happening at. Remember, the operator is only there to help you!

An emergency operator will take all the info you give them and send you a police car, an ambulance, or a fire truck, depending on what you need.

He's LOST!!!

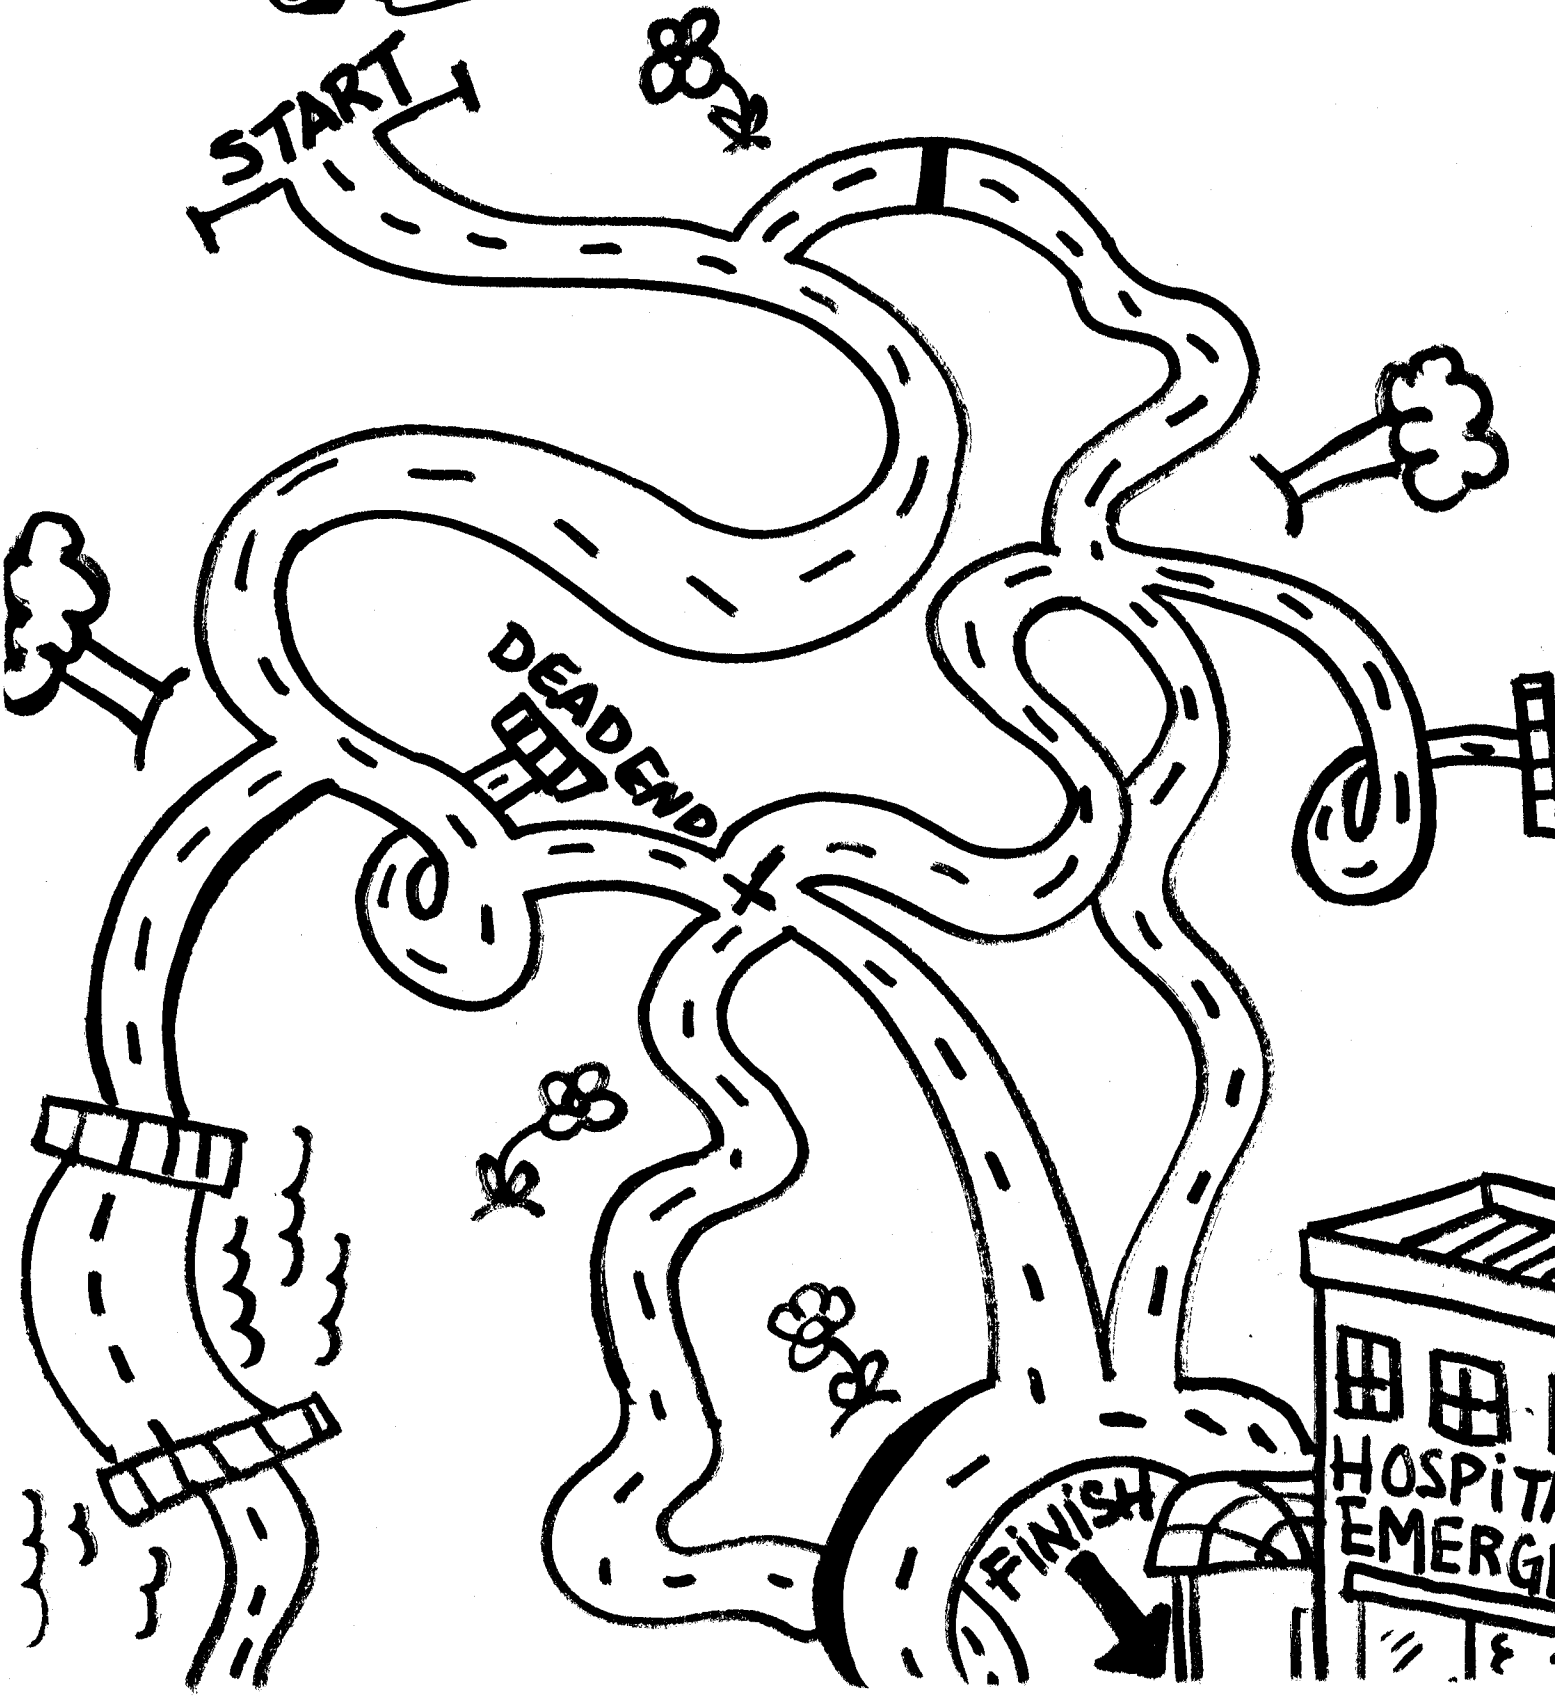

Help the Ambulance find its way to
The Hospital!!!
